

6516209790.txt

Since XM is a SUBSCRIPTION service, I think it is perfectly legal for XM to give traffic and weather for ANY location. Cable and satellite TV have similar services (specifically, weather) for all areas. The NAB is too worried about competition from satellite radio. When cable/satellite TV started, local stations complained, too. Both have survived. Leave satellite radio alone!